The Little Ant Mimi

One morning, Mimi found a big piece of bread on the path. “Wow! What a yummy snack!” said Mimi happily. She wanted to take it home.

Mimi tried to carry the bread, but it was too heavy.
“Oh no! It's too big for me!” she said.
She tried again and again, but she still couldn't move it.

A pretty butterfly saw Mimi struggling.
“Hey, Mimi! Do you need some help?” asked the butterfly.
“Yes, please!” said Mimi with a big smile.

Mimi and the butterfly worked together to move the bread.

“Come on! We can do it!” said Mimi.

At last, they got the bread to Mimi's home.

“Thank you for helping me!” said Mimi.

“You're welcome!” replied the butterfly.

Mimi was so happy to have a new friend.
“I learned something today,” said Mimi.
“Working together makes hard things easier!”
From that day on, Mimi never gave up, and she wasn't afraid to ask for help.
